

Fox Glacier Locals Helihike

Wednesday 24th August Fox Glacier Guiding and Glacier Helicopters hosted a locals Helihike for some of our valued accommodation providers and local retailers, to say thank you for their support and to experience one of our most popular Fox Glacier trips!

It was a great day out, the weather ended up being fantastic. We walked on snow that was still on the upper glacier from our recent winter blast. There were some amazing features with beautiful blue ice arches and a stunning blue ice cave that we could walk in! We were even able to slide down a snow covered slope on our bottoms.

Thanks to our guides Passang and Marius.

We appreciate those who came along, and for those that could not make it, we hope to see you next year!

Finally a big thank you to the Hobnail Café for putting on some delicious nibbles for us when we returned from our great day out.
